WHO'S WHO ON ALLEYS

We were going to call him "Cutie Carvel" in this expose of Washingon's prominent bowlers, but that monicker is strictly a baseball cognomen for O. F. Griffith's fast little second baseman, and the name is barred from print between October 31 and April Fools' Day. Accordingly, we won't say anything about "Cutie Carvel" here, but will let him off with the simple

Morgan has been an adept of the alleys for only about twenty months and in that time, he has made remarkable strides toward proficiency. He is a member of two teams in Washington, the Brunswicks and Sherwoods, of the National Capital and Arcade Leagues, respectively. His first bowling affiliation was with the Waverlies, of the Mann League, of Baltimore, that city being his home. It was in the fall of 1912 that he first discovered that he liked to bowl, and since then he simply can't resist the maplewood runway. Baltimore's alleys do not suit Morgan exactly, so he turkey trots over to Washington on the electric cars every day, to do his bowling. Also-Washington gets the race results about a second sooner than does Baltimore, and that is some attraction

DOGGETT WANTS MORE SCHOOLBOY CONTESTS

GOVERNOR CRAIG LENDS INFLUENCE

Seeks to Make Peace Between North Carolina and N. C.

RALEIGH, N. C., Jan. 27 .- The conroversy between the State University and the Agricultural and Mechanical College involving the athletic integrity of both institutions, was taken up by Governor Craig today and he will ask the trustees of the university tomorrow to make an effort to restore peace.

The two State institutions, dependent upon State appropriations, eight years ago ceased contests. They reconsidered last year, but near the football date the university charged the "Techs" with playing ineligible men. Carolina and Virginia broke with Georgtown and involved both the Carolina and "Tech" coaches. Governor Crafe asks that coaches. Governor Craig asks the
